Election litigation around the 2026 midterms

A survey of court filings
and an adjudication-focused reading

1 JUNE - 5 NOVEMBER 2026

77 identified cases · Updated after Election Day

Elections hold power to account. Courts hold it to the law.

This brief connects a provisional case inventory to the practical demands of fair, timely electoral complaint adjudication. Counts are an identified minimum, not a census of U.S. election litigation.

RESEARCH BRIEF

UPDATED 5 NOVEMBER 2026

01 · THE PICTURE

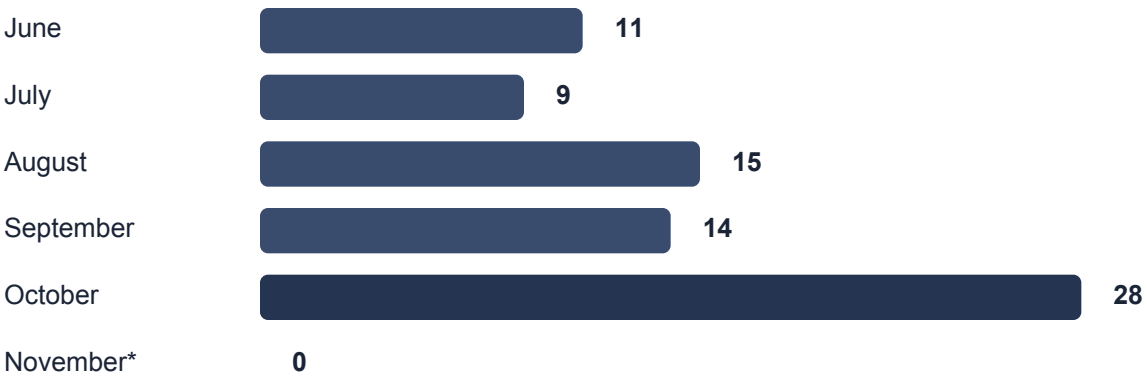

What the inventory shows

The observed pattern describes this research inventory, not the national court docket.

77	28	0
IDENTIFIED CASES	OCTOBER FILINGS	POST-ELECTION SUITS FOUND*

The register identifies 77 election-related court filings from June through October. No additional original suits dated October 31-November 5 were identified in the sources reviewed. Research and confirmation of case details are continuing.

NEW FILINGS IDENTIFIED BY MONTH

* Zero means none located. November and the post-election period run only through the November 5 review. Tracker and search-index lag, selective coverage, and the short observation period prevent a reliable conclusion about a national drop in new cases.

Scope remains broad. These 77 cases are cumulative filings, not 77 active cases. The register includes public-records suits, school-board mapping, and a Georgia law affecting 2028 contests. It is not a census of disputes over November 2026 ballots.

02 · FILING TIMELINE

New filings, week by week

Monday-Sunday periods; the final period ends Thursday, November 5, as of November 5.

PERIOD	CASES	RELATIVE VOLUME
Jun 1-7	2
Jun 8-14	2
Jun 15-21	3
Jun 22-28	3

Jul 13-19	1
Jul 20-26	3
Jul 27 - Aug 2	2
Aug 3-9	5
Aug 10-16	3
Aug 17-23	2
Aug 24-30	4

Oct 5-11	7
Oct 12-18	5
Oct 19-25	4
Oct 26 - Nov 1	9
Nov 2-5*	0

Total: 77. Monthly totals are June 11, July 9, August 15, September 14, October 28, and November 0 located. Each original suit or petition counts once; separately filed suits remain separate after consolidation.

* The final week is incomplete and includes November 2, Election Day (November 3), and November 4-5. Its zero is an observed search result, not a confirmed national count. Counts reflect filing dates, rather than the dates on which cases were reported.

03 · POST-ELECTION CHECK

Has litigation dropped off?

As reviewed November 5, 2026 | Election Day was Tuesday, November 3.

New suits look quieter in the reviewed sources, but a substantial post-election decline is not yet established. Only November 4 and part of November 5 fall strictly after Election Day. The sources do not yet offer a complete, promptly indexed national filing series.

COMPARISON PERIOD	NEW SUITS FOUND	OBSERVATION
Oct 19-25	4	Full week
Oct 26-Nov 1	9	Full week
Nov 2-3	0 located	Before / on Election Day
Nov 4-5	0 located	Post-election; partial

The apparent slowdown also starts before Election Day. No October 31-November 3 original suits were located either. A post-election effect cannot be separated from reporting lag or gaps in the search.

EXISTING PROCEEDINGS CONTINUED AFTER VOTING

Washington. In OneAmerica Votes, the government filed its opposition to emergency relief on November 4, disputing standing and harm. Read the filed opposition.

California. In SEIU, a November 4 order paused preliminary-injunction proceedings while the appeal continued. The appellate stay of temporary relief had been reinstated on November 3. Read the district-court order.

Assessment. This update measures new-case flow, not active caseload or all docket activity. A stronger test would compare equal two-week windows, allow time for indexing, and separately record new suits, emergency motions, appeals, and dispositions. No percentage decline is reported because the post-election denominator is not reliably observed.

04 · ELECTORAL JUSTICE

What this means for adjudicators

A practical reading through The Concord Project's judiciary and AEDR work.

The central question is how institutions can resolve complaints fairly and in time for a remedy to matter. The case register suggests the following priorities; it does not prove that administrative resolution would have prevented a particular lawsuit.

01 Triage by authority, timing, and remedy

Separate ballot delivery and registration problems from constitutional challenges, federal enforcement disputes, and public-records litigation. Identify the lawful first decision-maker, the election deadline, and the available route to court.

02 Build a usable evidentiary record

Citizenship matching, delayed registrations, and pollbook retention raise different factual questions. Preserve source data, document notice and correction opportunities, and distinguish an allegation from a finding before selecting a remedy.

03 Protect impartiality and explain decisions

Use clear conflict rules and trained decision-makers. Publish plain-language reasons that identify the claim, evidence, authority, and result. The inventory does not measure threats to judges; security requires separate assessment.

04 Preserve meaningful judicial review

Operational correction can resolve some complaints quickly, as reported in Cobb County and the Arizona registration dispute. Fundamental-rights and statutory-authority questions still require access to independent courts and a reviewable record.

These applications draw on Administrative Election Dispute Resolution (AEDR), including its five design principles: scope and sequencing; accessible procedures and tailored evidence; informed, impartial adjudication; transparency; and judicial review.

05 · METHOD AND SOURCES

How to use this brief

A source-linked register of election-related court filings.

01 What is counted

The unit is a newly filed court case or original court petition dated June 1-November 5, 2026. Appeals, amendments, interventions, motions in older cases, and administrative complaints are excluded. The register is nationwide in scope but selective in coverage.

02 How duplication is handled

Separately filed suits count separately after consolidation. Later filings in an existing case do not create a new case. The July 30 Iowa LULAC/Pate activity and the October 29 New York and November 2 federal administrative complaints are excluded. Cases are assigned to their original filing dates.

03 How entries should be read

Case names are shortened for navigation. Summaries draw on records reviewed between October 30 and November 5, 2026; not every docket has been updated through the latter date. Case details, responses, and procedural developments are still being researched and confirmed. An incomplete response summary does not mean that no defense has been presented.

04 Where the evidence comes from

Sources include Democracy Docket, Just Security, civil-society organizations, news reporting, and federal court records. Tracker coverage and publication dates vary; Poli Agg also draws on Democracy Docket. Linked complaints and orders support the summaries. Coverage is selective, and case information is still being researched and confirmed.
